

Journey Of Life

Why are we here? What is our purpose? Who created us? We may never know the answers to these questions. I feel there is a reason why we don't know the answers, I also feel we're special and unique, that someone of a higher being knows all of the answers and will reveal them somewhere through this journey we call life, because I believe and feel with all of my heart that life goes on after we fall asleep for the last time.

We're unique in so many ways, we're different in so many ways, and none of us are alike, with the exception of a soul that lives within us all while going through this journey of life.

When a newborn takes the first breath of life, this human being will cry, smile, crawl, walk, talk, then experience their new life as they grow. As a newborn comes of age, they will experience, happiness, generosity, greediness, pain, sickness, despair, loneliness, love, hate, anger, and many other emotions throughout their lives. Some will give life to another newborn or to many, and some may take a life unfortunately, because we're not perfect human beings.

We can bring joy to all around us, or unhappiness to loved ones. We can become successful or become failures in life because human beings have the free will to do whatever they want to do in this journey of life, whether good or bad.

While we're on this journey of life, we don't think of ourselves as unique, that not one of us are alike, that we think differently, talk differently, and act differently. We choose our own destinies, whether good or bad.

We are so unique in our journey of life and this is evident in our conception. We were a billion or more sperm cells swimming towards the female egg, and just one out of billions made it, and that one was you. Every one of us made that same journey to life and that makes us all unique.

While going through our journey of life, we experience many changes, and change is something that we go through and adapt to. We also learn and grow through our journey.

Going through our journey, we go through many stages of life before it comes to an end. These stages prepare you for your next journey after you fall asleep for the last time.

Whatever you choose for your journey of life is entirely up to you from the time you begin, and the ability to change your direction throughout your journey of life as you will.

Some will believe and some will not believe in God, and this is okay, because everyone has a choice. You're not here because of an explosion millions of years ago like some try to teach us; someone of a higher being, made this journey of life possible for us all.

While we're in this journey of life, our souls live within us until we fall asleep for the last time, then we awaken in our souls, and live throughout eternity in it. Our journey of life will never end.
